

14th International Conference Accounting and Management

The Association "Croatian Accountant" – an independent association of accountants, tax advisers and financial professionals and the RRIF College of Financial Management organized 14th International Scientific and Professional Conference Accounting and Management - RiM. The conference was held in Zagreb, at the Double Tree by Hilton Hotel.

The objectives of this and previous conferences were popularization of the profession and the exchange of ideas, opinions and good practices between professionals, teachers and all interested listeners and the development of the profession of accounting and management. The papers of the participants were published in the Proceedings Volume I - Research Papers and Volume II - Technical Papers. The selected papers will be published in the Journal of Accounting and Management (issue no.4). The participants of the Conference were addressed by the Head of the Conference dr. Durdica Jurić, who is also the editor in chief of the Conference Proceedings. In her introductory speech dr. Jurić stressed the importance of exchanging the experiences and opinions among the professionals in the region and the European Union, especially due to the fact that the Conference was held in the time when Croatia accessed in the European Union. The successful completion of the Conference was celebrated at the dinner, which was preceded by the promotion ceremony of the second generation of chartered forensic accountants. The agenda of the Conference, including the topics and lecturers, is presented on the website of the Association Croatian Accountant www.hrvatski-racunovodja.hr.
